Recognizing Child Abuse - Video Training

The Welfare Reform Academy provides high-quality, comprehensive training on recognizing and reporting child abuse for professionals.

- Six three-hour, studio-produced videotapes of live satellite videoconferences (lecture plus expert panel), broadcast in 2001:

Video 1. Reporting obligations.

Video 2. Is it physical abuse?

Video 3. Is it sexual abuse?

Video 4. Is it physical neglect?

Video 5. Is it psychological maltreatment?

Video 6. Is it a reportable parental disability?

- Recognizing Child Abuse: A Guide for the Concerned—the textbook.
- Recognizing Child Abuse: The Training Curriculum, a training package including a 336-page manual, 87 color transparencies, and a copy of the textbook.

Producer and author Douglas J. Besharov has conducted training on child abuse for almost thirty years. He is a professor at the Maryland School of Public Affairs, a child welfare attorney, and was the first director of the U. S. National Center on Child Abuse and Neglect.
